2. Captain Finley, from Admiral Donoho's Office, Department of the Navy was over to brief me as well as [redacted] on the forthcoming visit of the Mission from the Trusteeship Council [redacted]. They were going to try to make every effort to have them come [redacted] last; however, the Mission as of now wants to go [redacted] first and will spend about three days there, probably sometime during February.

1. General Cabell buzzed to inquire as to what I was doing about Lyman Kirkpatrick's recommendation that we allow the Navy to use our club facilities and some of our housing [redacted] I reminded him that FE was the executive agent [redacted] which he had forgotten, but that I had had discussions with FE [redacted] and Matt Baird. I also told him that they were very much opposed to this suggestion. He did not appear to be sympathetic to their point of view and said that he would raise the matter at an early Deputies' Meeting. (Later in the day Des FitzGerald telephoned to express his strong opposition to General Cabell's idea.) Presumably, General Cabell will raise it at an early Deputies' Meeting and will recommend to the Director that we allow the Navy to use our club facilities and probably some of our unused housing.

2. Captain Findley, Department of the Navy, telephoned to request permission to send a copy of my 11 May 1960 memorandum to Admiral Donaho, subject: [redacted] to the senior Navy people in Hawaii, Guam and Saipan. I requested that he not do this but instead write a memorandum of his own in [redacted]

[redacted] He agreed to this suggestion. He also said that he had not been able to accomplish anything toward getting the Navy to withdraw their earlier correspondence but assumed that the status quo would remain and that we might as well recognize this as "official on an unofficial basis." I told him that this was, of course, all right with us.

5. Gordon Findley from Admiral Donaho's office telephoned to say that he was becoming very much concerned about the possible publicity in connection with the interest in Amelia Earhardt [redacted] He told me that a Guamanian whom he knew on Saipan back in 1945 and 1946 and who was now the Chief Steward in the Admiral's Mess at the Pentagon had informed him that he remembered hearing natives talk about the downing of a plane and seeing a lady which could ~~have~~ well have been Amelia Earhardt. I told him that I had heard nothing [redacted] and he promised to keep me advised if there were any further developments.
